2010 Semper Fidelis Award Dinner

President George W. Bush, 43rd President of the United States, accepted the Foundation's 2010 Semper Fidelis Award at the February 25th Semper Fidelis Award Dinner held at the Crystal Gateway Marriott Hotel in Arlington, Virginia.

Since leaving office, President Bush has focused on launching the George W. Bush Presidential Center at Southern Methodist University. As part of that Center, he recently announced the George W. Bush Institute to advance the principles that guided his time in public service.

(L-R) General James Conway, Commandant of the Marine Corps; President George Bush, Semper Fidelis Award recipient; Trustee Donald Knauss, Dinner Chairman and Chairman and CEO of The Clorox Company; General Carl Mundy, USMC (Ret), MCFU Chairman

At the request of President Obama, President Bush has partnered with former President Clinton to lead a private sector fundraising effort, The Clinton Bush Haiti Fund, to help the Haitian people reclaim their country and rebuild their lives after the devastating earthquake.

More than 550 guests attended the event. The Commandant of the Marine Corps, General James T. Conway, was the Military Guest of Honor. General James E. Cartwright, USMC, Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; The Honorable Sean O'Keefe, former Secretary of the Navy and NASA Administrator; General Peter Pace, USMC (Ret), former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; General Alfred M. Gray, USMC (Ret), 29th Commandant of the Marine Corps; and Deb and Dan Dunham, parents of Medal of Honor recipient, Marine Corporal Jason Dunham, were also guests at the Dinner.

The Clorox Company was the Dinner Sponsor and Foundation Trustee, Mr. Donald R. Knauss, the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Clorox, was the Dinner Chairman. The evening began with a patriotic concert by the Quantico Marine Band featuring vocalist, Master Sergeant Sean Helms. A slide show celebrating MCFU's 30th Anniversary and dancing after dinner with The Wright Touch added to the evening's success. Proceeds from the Dinner topped $200,000.

Please see Pages 6-7 for more photos from the Dinner.

Spring 2010

Dear Friends of the Foundation,

Happy Anniversary! In this case I'm referring to the 30th Anniversary of our Foundation which was incorporated on 25 June 1980. During these years the Foundation has continued to provide resources to enhance and enrich Professional Military Education and Leadership for active duty Marines. All who have had a part in our success should feel proud of what has been accomplished.

A person who has certainly been a major part of our success – fundraisers, newsletters, Board support, among other duties for 17 years, is Pat Monroe. As many of you know, Pat is retiring this Spring but will still be close enough to call upon when her talent and expertise are needed. She worked tirelessly to make the 2010 Semper Fidelis Award Dinner a success and embodies the words of Rudyard Kipling in his poem, Soldier and Sailor Too, in that "Once in a while, you can finish in style, for the ends of the earth to view..." and she did. Pat will always be near – and dear – to our hearts for her selfless dedication to our cause.

Leaving the Board are Mike Ryan and Earl Hailston. Replacing Major General Les Palm, USMC (Ret), as an officio Board Member is the new President of the Marine Corps Association (MCA), Major General Ed Usher, USMC (Ret). Les will head the MCA Foundation for a short while longer. We are grateful to all for their support and service to us – thank you, gentlemen!

Since our last newsletter we enjoyed a huge success at our Semper Fidelis Award Dinner. You will read more about it in this newsletter, but words will not do it justice – it was superb! There are so many people to thank, starting with our Dinner Chairman, Don Knauss, and the Clorox Company for their fourth year of support. In addition to his sponsorship, Don and his lovely wife, Ellie, also flew to Dallas to pick up our Guest of Honor, President George W. Bush, and brought him to Washington D.C. They are always such an impressive couple who represent our Foundation so positively. The following day Don, Ellie and President Bush flew together to New York City to meet with President George H. W. Bush. We are also indebted to our Trustee, Jordan Saunders, and her husband, Tom, for having secured the acceptance of President Bush. They also hosted a large, charming contingent of family and fellow New Yorkers at the Dinner. And the wine, which is always a highlight at our event, was once again donated by Bruce Davis, Vice President of Freeman Beverage Company. (In the presence of his wife Sandy, their daughters Hope and Audrey, and with some of his employees in attendance, I presented him the Foundation's highest award, The Chapman Medallion, for being our Wine Sponsor for 10 years. He was grateful and touched. So were we!) Again, I want to give big thanks to Don Knauss, Clorox's Event Manager Linda Gonzales, Jordan and Tom Saunders, Bruce Davis, and John Hales, Pat Monroe and Kimberly Niero of my staff – you all made this our best dinner – ever!

I am grateful to my superb staff – John, Pat, and Kimberly – for other reasons as well. Not the least of these is the fact that they stood fast and stood strong this past year. Just over a year ago we were faced with an enormous challenge that affected them in many ways – none good. At considerable sacrifice they "hung in there," and were responsible for our current status of being alive and well. They ask for nothing more than the chance to help students at MCU and Marines throughout the world. They have been truly "Semper Fidelis!"

Finally, and as always, my thanks to you for your support and encouragement this past year. I deeply appreciate your "special trust and confidence" that meant and still means so much!

Semper Fidelis,

Thomas V. Draude

30 Years of Excellence

1980-2010

THROUGH THE YEARS

In late 1979, the Command and Staff College envisioned a foundation whose mission would support and enhance professional military education for students at the Command and Staff College. With a $100,000 grant from the Astor Foundation, the Command and Staff College Foundation was incorporated in June 1980, to enhance the professional education and leadership development of students at the Command and Staff College when government funding was not available. On November 10, 1996, to better reflect the Foundation's mission, the name was changed to the Marine Corps University Foundation.

The Marine Corps University was established in 1989 and brought to closure General Alfred M. Gray's dream of a University, and gave focus to the Foundation's support of professional military education for Marines. Today the Foundation supports all of the schools that comprise the Marine Corps University. Within the University over 15,000 students (including 100 sister service members, Department of Defense civilians, and international students) benefit from Foundation sponsored educational programs each year. In 1999, the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) granted the Marine Corps University accredited status.

The Commandant has emphasized that professional military education is an essential element of follow-on training for all Marines and has placed the challenge to meet the Corps' educational and leadership needs squarely on the Marine Corps University. In establishing these new horizons, the Commandant has underscored and broadened the Foundation's mission and opened the door to even greater opportunities for the Foundation to continue its mission.

You Can Help!

Since 1980, the Command and Staff College Foundation (now Marine Corps University Foundation) has supported a wide range of programs for which government funding was unavailable. In essence, the Foundation's efforts and resources have helped to maintain the margin of excellence which characterizes the Marine Corps and its leaders. As we celebrate our 30th Anniversary, we want to say thank you to all of our donors! With your help, we have provided resources for professional military education and leadership programs for active duty Marines for 30 years.

However, we still need your help! An unrestricted gift will give the Foundation the ability to continue our support for programs at the Marine Corps University (MCU). Your gift will help us fund new, special education and leadership initiatives for students at MCU.

WAYS TO GIVE

- DONATE BY CHECK, VISA, MASTERCARD, OR AMERICAN EXPRESS

You may mail your check to the Foundation office or use your credit card to make your contribution. The Foundation accepts VISA, MasterCard, and American Express. You may also use your credit card to donate on our secure website: www.mcu.org.

- STOCKS, BONDS, OR MUTUAL FUNDS

Securities you have held for more than a year that have increased in value may be transferred to MCF as a charitable donation. This option allows you to bypass the capital gains tax. If your securities have decreased in value, you may sell them and make a charitable donation to MCF with some or all of the proceeds. This option creates additional tax savings because you receive a tax deduction for the contribution and may be able to deduct a loss from other taxable income.

- MATCHING GIFTS

Please check with your employer's Human Resources Department to determine if your company has a Matching Gift Program. Many Foundation supporters take advantage of their company's Matching Gift Program to match, double, or even triple their gift. Some companies also match gifts from retirees, spouses, surviving spouses, and outside directors.

- MEMORIAL AND HONOR GIFTS

The Foundation would be honored to help you remember a loved one through a memorial gift. Family members and friends often wish to continue support of our mission through a gift to the Foundation in memory of a loved one. At the donor's request, a surviving family member will be notified of the memorial gift. You may also make a contribution "in honor of" a special person or occasion. The Foundation will send a special letter to the honoree to notify him/her of the donor's tribute gift.

- EAGLE, GLOBE, AND ANCHOR SOCIETY

Supporters of the Foundation who have established a planned gift for the Marine Corps University Foundation are recognized in the Eagle, Globe, and Anchor Society. Bequests, qualified savings plans, life income gifts, and charitable remainder trusts are popular vehicles for long-range estate and financial planning. Planned gifts, both large and small, are important to the Foundation. There is no minimum gift level and membership is for life. Members of the Eagle, Globe, and Anchor Society are listed on a special plaque displayed in the Foundation office.

- CORPORATE MEMBERSHIP

Many corporations and private companies support MCF through our Corporate Member Program. The five levels of Corporate Membership are: Scarlet and Gold Council - annual support of $50,000; Commandant's Council - annual support of $25,000; Leadership Council - annual support of $15,000; Semper Fidelis Council - annual support of $10,000; General John A. Lejeune Council - annual support of $5,000. For more information about the Corporate Member Program and associated benefits please contact the Foundation's Chief Operating Officer, Lieutenant Colonel John R. Hales, USMC (Ret).

Insurgency and Counterinsurgency Lessons from El Salvador

By: Major Patrick Simon, USMC
Warfighting Faculty, Command and Staff College

As part of its two-week Irregular Warfare curriculum, the Marine Corps Command and Staff College, in conjunction with the Marine Corps University Foundation, hosted a panel entitled, "Insurgency and Counterinsurgency Perspectives: Lessons Learned from El Salvador." From a historical and contemporary perspective, the panel focused on how the United States overlooked El Salvador as a bridge between Vietnam and our current interventions in Iraq and Afghanistan. Distinguished panel members included former Military Group commander Colonel John Waghelstein, USA (Ret), former Deputy Chief of Mission to El Salvador, Ambassador (Ret) David Passage, Special Forces Advisor Colonel Jeff Nelson, USA (Ret), and Farabundo Marti Liberation Front (FMLN) Commander, Señor Roberto Castillo.

Moderated by Dr. Caesar Sereseres of the University of California, Irvine, the panel addressed the critical roles of advisors in counterinsurgency, the importance of upholding human rights in fighting irregular conflicts, and the understanding of insurgent strategies and tactics. Ambassador Passage linked lessons learned from Vietnam to the El Salvador conflict through his experiences with the Civil Operations and Revolutionary - later Rural - Development Support (CORDS) program in Vietnam. Colonel Waghelstein discussed counterinsurgent strategies in El Salvador, while Colonel Nelson drew on his advisory experiences from Vietnam, El Salvador and then as a senior mentor to Defense Minister Abdul Rahim Wardak of Afghanistan. The highlight of the panel was hearing the insurgent perspective from former Farabundo Marti Liberation Front Commander, Señor Roberto Castillo. Thanks to funding by the Marine Corps University Foundation, Señor Castillo's visit from El Salvador permitted students and faculty to interact and hear first hand accounts from the enemy perspective. Señor Castillo also commented on the challenges coalition forces face in combating the insurgency in Afghanistan. In the end, former antagonists had a civil discourse to share salient lessons learned from past conflicts, helping to shape the future leaders of tomorrow.

“IN THE END, FORMER ANTAGONISTS HAD A CIVIL DISCOURSE TO SHARE SALIENT LESSONS LEARNED FROM PAST CONFLICTS, HELPING TO SHAPE THE FUTURE U.S. AND INTERNATIONAL LEADERS OF TOMORROW.”

(L-R) Dr. Caesar Sereseres, UC Irvine; Lieutenant Colonel Lynn Stover, Deputy Director Command and Staff College; Ambassador (Ret) David Passage; Señor Roberto Castillo; Major Patrick Simon, Warfighting Faculty; Colonel John Waghelstein, USA (Ret); Colonel Jeff Nelson, USA (Ret); Lieutenant Colonel Mike Lewis, USA, Special Operations Chair; and Captain Armando Daviu (Interpreter), Center for Advanced Operational Cultural Learning
